■ STATE TIMES NEWS

NEW DELHI: Union Minister, Dr Jitendra Singh on Monday said that Indian StartUps will soon launch Space satellites as well as satellite constellations and try their rockets.

The Minister also informed that five PSLVs are being domestically produced by L&T and HAL, while OneWeb is all set to launch their satellites through ISRO and NSIL.

Speaking at the India Space Conclave in Delhi on the occasion of first anniversary of the Indian Space Association, ISPA, Dr Jitendra said, it is safe to say that a Space Revolution led by ISRO along with the Private Sector and Start-ups is on the horizon.

Dr Jitendra said, ISPA is acting as a major contributor toward supplementing the Indian Government's endeavours to make India acquire a leading position in the arena of commercialised space-based excursions. He said, for this, ISPA's role as a commune to deliberate interactions between the key stakeholders becomes a vital and critical one. The Minister hoped that ISPA keeping the motto of 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' high will usher in important technological advancements and investments in the country which will eventually create high-skill job opportunities, while following the government's approach to Space reforms.

Dwelling on the strategic relevance of Space in view of recent global conflicts, Dr Jitendra said, Space, a dual-use technology domain, is emerging as an important multi-faceted enabler that provides unprecedented reach. He added that many nations are today focusing on developing their military space capabilities to ensure its safe, secure, and friendly use along with deterrence capability to deny it to adversaries, when necessary.

Dr Singh elaborated that India too has resolved to leverage the strengths of this emerging dimension of warfare and in fact, Indian government is undertaking strong and decisive steps towards ensuring Atma Nirbharti in the Space Sector to ensure our private industrial capability and capacity are effectively energised and channelized to develop cutting-edge solutions which would give India a decisive edge over our others in times to come.

In conclusion, Dr Jitendra said, the achievements of ISRO have earned us both Global recognition as well as admiration and it's no less than an honour when ISRO is carving a special place in astronomical space with the World's largest constellation of remote-sensing satellites. The Minister underlined that ISRO will keep making India proud of its achievements.
