information regarding defective ventilators of three different Make/Brand, supplied to them under 'PM CARE' for the better patient care. HoD Department of Anesthesiology stated in the reply that departments received Bharat Ventilators from Medical Superintendent, SMHS Hospital and were put in trial run. However, all these ventilators were returned to Medical Sup SMHS Hospital due to compressor/heat-up problems, resulting in sudden shutdown of ventilators. The HoD further stated that 3 Agva Ventilators installed in SMHS Hospital are non-functional due to certain problems like display not working properly, problem in generating tidal volume etc. As far as ventilators of DHAMAN-III are concerned, it was informed that 125 ventilators were stationed at DRDO Hospital, Khonmoh, Srinagar but out of them, 2 are in SMHS Hospital for trial run in order to ascertain whether these ventilators generate required tidal volume. After a trial run, it was observed that (i) Tidal Volume had not generated. (ii) Required FiO2 could not be delivered to patients, thus is not feasible to put them in use. (iii) Ventilators stop automatically, hence, putting patients at risk," said Balvinder, adding that installation of defective ventilators in health institutions of Jammu division could be one of the major reason/factor responsible for highest COVID-19 mortality rate in Jammu during recent past.

Keeping in view the seriousness of matter and to safeguard residents of UT, Balvinder urged Chief Justice of J&K High Court to take serious cognizance of the issue and issue necessary directions to the Chief Secretary for constituting a committee of experts to examine functioning of all ventilators installed in various health institutions of J&K UT, supplied under PM CARES besides taking stern action against suppliers of such defective ventilators and initiating disciplinary action against those officers of Health & Medical Education Department, who approved installation of defective ventilators without putting them on trial, thereby putting lives of patients at high risk. Indian Independence Act 1947 which propounded the principles of Partition of India in its text in a way conceded an Independent status to the Princely States of British Indian Empire. No doubt the then Vice Roy / Governor did counsel the Princes to go with either of the Dominions (India or Pakistan) preferably before 15th August 1947. since most of the princely state had practically nil own defending armies and were so far dependent on the British. The accession of erstwhile Princely state of J&K with either dominion was delayed and 'Pakistan' had on 22nd Oct. 1947 'openly' attacked J&K from Kashmir Valley side. Maharaja Hari Singh in his letter of 26th Oct 1947 addressed to Governor General of India had pinned the reasons for

So the, option of remaining independent was also in the wisdom to Maharaja Hari Singh Ji. Pakistani raiders had already entered the then princely state of J&K before the state acceded to India. On the directions of the Defence Committee the Army Headquarters rushed the troops on 27th October by air to Srinagar whereas per reports there were hardly 100 troops in & around city after Maharaja had left for Jammu on 25th October 1947 itself and the then "Srinagar/Badgam Airport" was under extreme chances of falling to the raiders / their supporters and hence could extremely reduce reducing the possibilities of saving a large part of Kashmir province of those days, so the priorities were set on there in the pious wisdom of the commanders. Maj Som Nath Sharma had become the 1st PVC decorated Indian soldier who had demonstrated extra ordinary valour and desire for sacrificing self for country by not only saving Badgam Airport on 3rd November 1947 but in a way saving whole of Kashmir Valley and even large part of Ladakh region.....

Similarly the battle of Naushera (J&K), a long drawn battle extending from late 1947 to 1948, needs to be remembered more for saving through unprecedent valour and sacrifices of Indian soldiers a very large part of even the Jammu

Province of the then just acceded Indian princely state of J&K through to Rajouri to Poonch. How hard have been times for the Indian forces for pushing out the enemy during the times of Battle of Nowshera and how important was the win for saving a very large part of Jammu Province in 1948 could be well imagined from the facts like that 1/7 Rajput Regiment was awarded in Independent India one Param Vir Chakra, two Maha Vir Chakras, nine Vir Chakras and eleven Mention in Dispatches for actions in battle of Nowshera.

Channi, Sidhu infighting has made mockery of Punjab Congress should focus on manifesto not BSF: Chugh

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: BJP National General Secretary Tarun Chugh on Monday said that infighting between Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi and PCC president Navjot Sidhu has made a mockery of democracy and led the country to victory.

In a statement, Chugh said the entire governance in Punjab stood paralysed due to the instability in the chief minister's office which has been under attack from the PCC president for the last more than six months.

"The Congress high command has been amusingly watching the cat fight in Punjab without doing anything even as the working of the constitutional offices has been paralysed", he said.

Chugh said Congress had failed on all fronts in the state under the raj of various mafias. He demanded that during the current Assembly session the Congress government was targeting the elite security agency and was trying to hit the morale of the force.

He said instead of expressing gratitude to the valiant force for guarding the borders of the nation under the raj of various mafias, the Congress government was contemplating passing a resolution against the BSF.
