Journalism Department JU celebrates National Press Day

STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: To commemorate National Press day, Department of Journalism and Media Studies, University of Jammu in collaboration with HWPL (Heavenly Culture, World Peace, Restoration of Light) an international non - governmental organization (NGO) based in Seoul, South Korea today organised an International webinar on "Global Journalists Promoting Peace"

The webinar was hosted by HWPL organization members Rene Kim, Alex, and Kevin, wherein Head of the Department of Journalism and Media Studies, Prof Garima Gupta and other faculty members including Prof. Dushant Rai, Dr. Pardeep Singh Bali, Ms. Kumerjit Chajgotra and Ms.Ramiyan Bhardwaj were present.

The webinar begins with an introductory session by Kevin, who introduced the topic of the Webinar, "Global Journalists Promoting Peace."

Talking about peace journalism, Rene Kim said that peace is the only path and value that all humanity can advance together.

She stated that the perspective that a global journalist should have a role to play in bringing Peace.

She discussed the impact of the media on conflicts and disputes and how journalists sacrifice a lot without expecting anything in return to achieve such goals.

"The importance of promoting harmony and resolving conflicts, as invoked by Mahatma Gandhi and Nelson Mandela, should be the responsibility of the journalists," she said and added that it is the responsibility of a journalist to highlight the stories promoting harmony and peace.

She further asserted that how peace reporting can lead to inclusion in society.

"If a group of people is shown as a liability, then they begin to be excluded. If people are shown as victims, then people restart including them and work towards human rights," she maintained.

Speaking on the occasion, HoD, Prof Garima Gupta said that this webinar is just a beginning of the collaboration between the Department of Journalism and Media Studies, University of Jammu and Korean organization.

She said that such events provide an insight to the students about the important role of media in the society.

"I am hopeful that this event, coinciding with the National Press Day, will help the budding journalists to understand the intricacies of the profession," she said and added that it will help the students to imbibe peaceful narratives for the Global peace throughout their career.

Kumerjit Chajgotra presented a vote of thanks to the members of HWPL, faculty members and all the students of the Department of Journalism and Media Studies for active participation in the webinar.

RDD&PR commends 393 Panchayats for successful 'Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas' observance

STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: The Rural Development and Panchayati Raj (RD&PR) Department commended the remarkable efforts of all 393 panchayats across Jammu and Kashmir for successfully organizing special Gram Sabhas on Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas.

The program focused on engaging tribal communities and strengthening their role in rural governance through capacity building sessions and training on the Forest Rights Act (FRA).

With an impressive participation of over 14,650 individuals, including tribal youth, women, members of Self-Help Groups (SHGs) and local leaders, the events emphasized inclusivity and community engagement. Besides, orientation sessions were held covering key topics such as Forest Rights Act (FRA), Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), Localization of SDGs (LSDGs), and the Panchayat Development Index (PDI).

On the occasion, the participants took pledges to promote drug-free and environmentally clean panchayats. A tree-planting initiative, "Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam," honored special guests by planting fruit-bearing trees in their names.

During the programme, the panchayats set up stalls showcasing services and programs from sectors like Health, Education, Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS), and Agriculture, providing valuable resources and information to the attendees. Besides, discussions centered on PDI scores, thematic pledges (Sankalp) and the Gram Panchayat Development Plan (GPDP) for 2025-26.

Meanwhile, a live telecast by the Prime Minister highlighted ongoing initiatives for tribal empowerment, the recognition of forest rights and the welfare of indigenous communities.

The celebrations also built on the Dharti Aaba

Janjatiya Gram Utkarsh Abhiyan (DAJGUA) campaign, launched on October 2, 2024, aimed at addressing gaps in tribal areas' social infrastructure, health, education, and livelihood through 25 intervention schemes led by 17 Central Ministries.

Director Panchayati Raj, Sham Lal, highlighted the strong turnout, particularly from tribal youth and women, as a reflection of the community's commitment to participatory governance.

"Gram Sabhas across Jammu and Kashmir echoed a powerful message of unity, sustainability, and grassroots empowerment," he added.
