■ STATE TIMES NEWS

NEW DELHI: Union Minister Dr Jitendra Singh on Monday inaugurated the Good Governance Week campaign "Prashasan Gaon Ki Aur" aimed at showcasing and replicating the best governance practices to grass-root level. He said, the "Prashasan Gaon Ki Aur" campaign during the Good Governance Week will create a national movement for good governance and motivate the stakeholders both in the government as well as outside the government. Dr Jitendra Singh said, as a part of Azaadi ka Amrut Mahotsav celebrations in the 75th Year of India's Independence, a Good Governance Week is being celebrated from December 20-25, 2021 with Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances as the Nodal Department. He said, through

"Prashasan Gaon Ki Aur"- a Nation-wide campaign for Redressal of Public Grievances and Improving Service Delivery will be held in all Districts, States, and Union Territories of India. The Minister said, over 700 District Collectors will be participating in "Prashasan Gaon Ki Aur" and during the week-long event, will visit Tehsil/Panchayat Samiti Headquarters to provide timely grievance redressal and improve service delivery. Dr Jitendra called upon the delegates to be the vehicles of transformation and underlined that Good practices become best practices when they get shared, and some of them can even excel in execution and set even higher standards. He said, the main aim is to provide governance which is corruption free, transparent and in adherence to established rules and procedures. This alone will make the march to New India successful, he added. Dr Jitendra Singh said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has brought a paradigm shift with the "Minimum Government-Maximum Governance" approach where in which the citizens' interaction with the functionaries of the Government was sought to be reduced through digitalization, consolidation of Ministries, policy making functions separated from execution, coordinated implementation monitored at highest levels, well-defined accountability and a proper delegation being ensured.

The Minister said that in the course of the last seven years, the Government has made it clear that all its policies are designed keeping the poorest-of-the-poor as the principal beneficiary. Till some years back opening a Bank account for a poor man used to be a tedious process, but now Bank Mitras come to their homes and help them open a zero-balance account, he added. Dr Jitendra inaugurated the Exhibition on Good Governance Practices - "Shaasan Ki Badalti Tasveer". He also launched the Good Governance Week Portal and released the booklet on 2 year achievements of DARPG. A film on "Prashasan Gaon Ki Aur" was screened on this occasion.

Delimitation Commission's recommendations guided by BJP's political agenda, allege NC, PDP, PC

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

SRINAGAR: Valley-based mainstream political parties on Monday expressed dismay over the recommendations of the Delimitation Commission in Jammu and Kashmir, alleging that it seems the exercise was carried out in furtherance of the BJP's political agenda.

"The draft recommendation of the J&K delimitation commission is unacceptable. The distribution of newly created assembly constituencies with 6 going to Jammu & only 1 to Kashmir is not justified by the data of the 2011 census," National Conference leader Omar Abdullah said in a series of tweets.

He said the commission appears to have allowed the political agenda of BJP to dictate its recommendations.

"It is deeply disappointing that the commission appears to have allowed the political agenda of the BJP to dictate its recommendations rather than the data which should have been its only consideration. Contrary to the promised scientific approach it's a political approach," Abdullah said.

PDP president Mehbooba Mufti said the commission has been "created simply to serve BJP's political interests by dividing people along religious and regional lines. The real game plan is to install a government in JK which will legitimise the illegal and unconstitutional decisions of August 2019".

She was referring to the government's decisions of abrogating J&K's special status under Article 370 and bifurcating it into union territories.

People's Conference (PC) chairman Sajad Gani Lone said the recommendations "reek of bias".

"The recommendations of the delimitation commission are totally unacceptable. They reek of bias. What a shock for those who believe in democracy," Lone said in a tweet.

PDP spokesman Suhail Bukhari said the reported recommendations of the commission vindicated the apprehension of his party that the exercise was carried out in furtherance of the BJP agenda.

PDP president Mehbooba Mufti has from day one maintained that this Commission has been set for fulfilling the political agenda of the BJP. We have heard that the commission has recommended increasing six seats in Jammu region and one in the valley. It cannot be justified in any manner," Bukhari said.

He said the PDP and people of Jammu and Kashmir will not accept these recommendations and fight them tooth and nail.

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: Residents of many cities in Jammu & Kashmir faced power shut down on second consecutive day, as Power Development Department (PDD) employees continued their strike against the proposed privatisation of electricity in the Union Territory.

The PDD employees have been on strike since Sunday against the J&K administration decision to privatise the department and merge it with the Power Grid Corporation of India.

Jammu University has postponed offline and online examination for undergraduate and post-graduate students tomorrow in view of the strike.

The PDD employees held anti-government protests in Srinagar and Jammu demanding in writing from the Lieutenant Governor that it has shelved the proposal of privatisation.

According to sources, while the administration parleyed with the PDD employees, it also visited several power distribution facilities in Jammu to speed up restoration of electric supply.

The administration in its talks with the employees was represented by divisional commissioner, Jammu, Raghuvar Langer and additional Director General of Police (ADGP) Mukesh Singh.

The deadlock between the two bodies has put thousands of J&K residents in extreme hardship amid bone-chilling winter, while hundreds of COVID-19 patients are struggling to keep their oxygen concentrators on.

The government has made an appeal to employees to call off their strike and has offered to put on hold its privatisation plan, but employees are insisting on a written assurance.

Talking to reporters here, a spokesman of protesting employees said the employees are ready to call off strike provided government gives them in writing assurance for their four core demands, particularly regarding privatisation and release of their salaries.

Over 20,000 employees of the PDD are on an indefinite strike.

Most of the 20 districts of Jammu and Kashmir are facing power breakdown since Sunday while it has been restored in some areas in Jammu and Srinagar and also in few other districts, the sources said.

On Sunday, Langer wrote to the department of military affairs, ministry of defence, requesting for the assistance of the army in the restoration of the essential services.

Since then the army has been deployed to restore essential services, officials said.

The deployment was made following a requisition by the administration to the army, the officials said.

The army acted swiftly and deployed its troops at critical electricity stations and water supply sources to restore power supply, officials said. Langer on Sunday said the government has already acceded to all demands of the striking employees, including the proposed joint venture between the Jammu and Kashmir Power Transmission Corporation Limited and the Power Grid Corporation of India Limited. He also described the power reforms as "inevitable".

There have been few rounds of talks already at various levels with the PDD employees the power sector reforms are inevitable and the government of India has clearly told us to ensure that the reformation is seen through, Langer said.

the issue," newly appointed J&K Congress working president Raman Bhalla told reporters here. He termed it the worst-ever crisis which is causing great hardships to citizens, especially aged and ailing people. Opposing the privatisation of power, the Congress leader said the move was against the overall interests of poor consumers in the long run as common people will not be able to bear high power tariffs. He justified the demands of the agitating employees and extended full support to them, while also appealing to them to take care of the sufferings of common people due to the blackout.
