HoD Cardiology GMCH Jammu, Dr. Sushil Sharma with his team Ina camp at BSF HQ, Jammu.

STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: Realizing the need to boost the morale of the security forces who are working under extreme stressful conditions due to constant tensions on borders and staying away from loved ones and family, Head Department of Cardiology GMCH Jammu, Dr. Sushil Sharma held a day long health checkup cum Cardiac awareness camp at Frontier HQ BSF Paloura, here on Sunday.

The Camp started with a lecture on "Stress and Cardiovascular diseases, Possible Causes and Prevention" by Dr. Sushil Sharma with main aim to disseminate knowledge of primary prevention of cardiac ailments and screen high risk individuals and advise regarding further management.

While delivering the lecture, Dr Sushil stated that the coronary heart disease is a significant public health issue, due to its high prevalence and mortality rate.

A number of clinical and experimental studies indicate that strong emotions, especially negative emotions, such as hostility, anger, depression and anxiety, precipitate coronary heart disease, Dr Sushil said adding that on the one hand, coronary heart disease patients have difficulty in coping with stress and depression and experience negative emotions, like anger or frustration. On the other hand, positive emotions, especially hope, contribute to health benefits and lead to lower levels of coronary heart disease and other diseases. He added that stress is a multifactorial response that leads to significant behavioral modifications and alterations on homeostasis and physical and psychological status.

The stress response is regulated by the autonomous nervous system, increasing the sympathetic modulation when a threat is perceived and causing increases in the physiological response (heart rate, blood pressure, breathing frequency, glucose levels, etc.). When stressors disappear the parasympathetic modulation increases, returning the organism to the homeostatic state. Stress has become a challenge for humans because of its negative physiological and psychological implications, which are normally related to cardiovascular diseases. A chronic activation of the autonomous sympathetic nervous system could trigger acute heart diseases and hypertension.

Regarding military population, military operations and combat training simulation exposure are important stressors that influence chronic stress response in soldiers, affecting their performance and physical integrity and cardiovascular health.

Dr Sushil elaborated that although researchers have no specific evidence as to why a greater amount of active-duty personnel have high blood pressure and cardiovascular diseases, we can always look at some of the risk factors, including high amounts of stress, emotions, smoking tobacco, and a high sodium diet which may contribute to this. In order to achieve ideal cardiovascular health every one of us including our defence personnel should Reduce salt intake.

Salty foods increase your blood pressure which can increase your risk of heart disease. The Heart Foundation recommends adults to eat less than 2000 mg of sodium a day, which is less than a teaspoon, Deal with stress in a healthy way. It is important to avoid excessive drinking or smoking to deal with stress. Try encouraging your loved one to reach out to others for help, use daily exercise and practice healthy eating patterns. Yoga is also a good tool that may lower blood pressure, reduce stress and blood glucose levels.

DIG Frontier HQ BSF Dr K S Kumar and Dr Lokeshwar Khajuria appreciated the efforts of Dr Sushil and his team for conducting cardiac awareness cum health checkup camp for the welfare of BSF Jawans and imparting knowledge, awareness about cardiovascular diseases.

Others who were part of this camp includes Dr Nasir Ali Choudhary (Cardiologist) and Dr Dhaneshwar Kapoor. Paramedics and volunteers includes Kamal Sharma, Raghav Rajput, Rajkumar, Sandeep Pal, Lovely Malpotra, Sunil Kumar, Gourav Sharma, Akshay Kumar and Paramjeet Singh.

NEW DELHI: To mark the Good Governance Day and culmination of Good Governance Week, Union Minister, Dr Jitendra Singh, on Sunday launched national level revamped versions of Probity Portal and e-HRMS (electronic Human Resource Management System) Portal for government employees, developed by the DoPT (Department of Personnel & Training).

Delivering the keynote address, the minister noted with satisfaction that the Department of Personnel & Training (DoPT) is fast emerging as a key Human Resources Nucleus for the Government of India.

Dr Jitendra said, in the last 8 Years of Modi Government, the Ministry of Personnel, Public Grievances & Pensions has become a "Facilitatory Ministry" dedicated to the service of both the personnel as well as the common man.

Dr Singh underlined that the transformative reforms undertaken by DoPT, Department of Administrative Reforms (DARPG) and Department of Pensions in the last 8 years brought increased transparency, increased accountability and technology driven changes moving from Timeline to Real time through Dashboard mechanism to follow the ultimate goal of Prime Minister's Mantra of "Maximum Governance, Minimum Government".

Paying rich tributes to former Prime Minister, Bharat Ratna, Atal Bihari

Vajpayee, on whose birth anniversary Good Governance Day is observed, Dr Jitendra said, this year's event is also special in the sense that we have celebrated the 75th Anniversary of India's Independence and also assumed the Presidency of G-20 to make a mark on Global Issues and Challenges in years ahead.

Dr Jitendra said, this year's event is also significant that Mission Karmayogi has graduated to a new level and is now available on Mobile App to learn and engage anytime from anywhere.

He also pointed that Mission Karmayogi has also moved to the next generation after Prime Minister Modi launched the Karmayogi Prarambh module on 22nd November, 2022 during the 2nd edition of Rozgar Mela. The Minister said, the Prarambh module will be of immense help to new entrants into the government service to prepare for future role in a perfect fashion.

Earlier Dr Jitendra Singh launched Revamped e-HRMS (electronic Human Resource Management System) 2.0 Portal, as the earlier iteration of the e-HRMS was limited in scope, where employees could avail limited services and it was not connected with other HR applications.

The revamped e-HRMS 2.0 Portal will provide the following services in a digital mode to the employees - Transfers (Rotation/Mutual), Deputation, APAR, IPR, iGOT Trainings, Vigilance Status, Deputation Opportunities, Service Book and other basic HR Services like Leave, Tour, Revamped e-HRMS 2.0 will save several thousand man-hours and tons of printing paper. This will also go a long way in improving employee satisfaction, promoting ease of doing/processing HR work and enhancing productivity and transparency in administrative functioning.

The Minister also launched Mobile Application of iGOT Karmayogi Portal by Karmayogi Bharat (SPV) with an aim to create professional, well trained and future ready civil service for India, Mission Karmayogi was launched by the Govt. of India.
