MESSAGE

I am pleased to learn about the 60th Annual Day celebrations of Civil Defence and Home Guards on December 6, 2022. Greetings and best wishes to personnel of these organisations on the joyous occasion.

During the six decades of existence, Civil Defence and Home Guards personnel have served the nation with dedication and commitment. Through selfless efforts, the workforce of these organisations has made a valuable contribution towards strengthening the overall security framework.

Be it warlike conditions, natural calamities, or man-made disasters, the workforce of both the organisations renders valuable humanitarian assistance. The efforts by these personnel to protect human life and property during such times are commendable.

It is essential that such organisations continue with their efforts aimed at capacity building of communities through more awareness about various challenges facing the nation. Increased cooperation and synergy between the people, as well as Civil Defence and Home Guards personnel is critical, if we are to achieve success in our efforts.

Our government has adopted 'whole of the nation approach' towards security. It is only through a collective approach of all security-related organisations as well as society, that we can face future challenges related to internal security.

The 25-year period of Amrit Kaal till 2047 is an opportunity to realise the vision of building a strong, glorious India.

Heartiest congratulations to all the personnel of Civil Defence and Home Guards, as well as their families for the 60th Annual Day celebrations. May the moment inspire the personnel to take these institutions and the nation to even greater heights of excellence.

I wish the Annual Day festivities all success.
