

Lecture on 'AI and Cyber Crime' organised by JU

STATE TIMES NEWS
JAMMU: The Department of Economics, University of Jammu, successfully organised a special lecture on "AI and Cyber Crime" as part of the Skill-Based Course offered in the first semester of the post-graduate programme. The session featured Bhupinder Singh Sasan, Investigation Officer at the Cyber Police Station, Jammu, who delivered an in-depth and engaging lecture on the rapidly evolving landscape of cyber threats in the age of Artificial Intelligence. Sasan discussed a wide range of cyber-crimes, including phishing, sextortion, UPI frauds, smishing, cyberstalking, and several emerging digital scams. He elaborated on the concept of digital arrest, shedding light on how cybercriminals use psychological manipulation and advanced AI-driven tools to deceive individuals. He further explained cyber warfare tactics, cryptocurrency scams, and other sophisticated methods employed by criminals to exploit digital vulnerabilities. Highlighting the increasing complexity of cybercrime due to AI-enabled technologies, the speaker emphasised the urgent need for heightened vigilance and public awareness. Drawing from real case studies from Jammu city such as sextortion incidents, fake job scams, and digital arrest attempts, he demonstrated how unsuspecting citizens are targeted through both social engineering and technological deception. Sasan also introduced participants to key government-supported platforms, including the National Cybercrime Reporting Portal (cybercrime.gov.in) and the cyber helpline number 1930, urging prompt reporting of cyber and financial frauds. He demonstrated the functions of digital safety tools such as CIER and the Saanhar Saathi App, which assist in tracking fraudulent users, preventing identity misuse, and supporting real-time investigations. Earlier, Prof. Sunita Devi, Head of the Department, welcomed the resource person and emphasised the increasing relevance of cybersecurity education in today's digital era. The event concluded with a Vote of Thanks by Dr. Rinnie Mahajan, who expressed gratitude to the speaker, faculty, scholars, and students for their enthusiastic participation.
