SAI appoints 398 coaches, assistant coaches in preparation of Olympics 2024, 2028

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

NEW DELHI: The Sports Authority of India (SAI) on Wednesday announced it has appointed 398 coaches at various levels across 21 disciplines to prepare for important tournaments including the Paris and Los Angeles Olympics.

The new batch of coaches and assistant coaches has a host of eminent names, including Asian Games gold medalist rower Bajrang Lal Thakur. He joins as rowing coach.

Commonwealth Championship gold medalist grappler Shilpi Sheoran joins as an assistant coach in wrestling, while Olympian Jincy Phillip will serve as an athletics coach.

Puglist Pranamika Borah, multiple medalist in leading international championships, joins as a boxing coach.

"The recruitment comes in the wake of the effort of the Ministry of Youth Affairs of Sports to provide 360 degree support to athletes as they prepare for important national and international competitions, including Olympic 2024, 2028," a sports ministry release said.

Of the total number of 398, 101 coaches are joining on deputation from PSUs and other government bodies.

"I am happy that a number of ex-athletes who have competed at the highest international level of competition and won medals have applied for these posts and have been selected," Sports Minister Anurag Thakur said. "Their (the ex-international athletes) inclusion in the system will mean that besides training athletes in the sport itself, they will be able to train them for mental toughness which is the key to success when competing at the world stage."

Speaking about what he looks forward to in the new assignment, Thakur, an Arjuna awardee, said, "I am grateful to the Sports Authority of India for giving me a chance to give back to sports as a coach especially at a time when water sports in India has a great chance of making an impact at international competitions.

"I am training the team for the Asian Games and I am confident that by fielding athletes in maximum number of disciplines we will be able to add to the country's medal tally in the upcoming Asian Games."

Thakur added that water sports in India has got an added push with SAI's National Centers of Excellence in Jagatpura and Alleppey which are world class infrastructure for water sports training.

There are four Arjuna Awardees, a Dhyanchand and Dhronacharya awardee each among those who have been selected for the positions.

Besides ex-international athletes, those who have completed their Diploma in Sports Coaching from NSNIS Patiala or a recognized Indian or foreign University have also been inducted.

Several SAI coaches who were previously on contract, but whose contracts had ended, have been recruited back in service, as per their eligibility.

Indian cricket's 'backbone' Ranji Trophy returns after two years in bio-secure bubbles

■ AGENCY

AHMEDABAD: Indian cricket's 'backbone', the Ranji Trophy, will make a much-anticipated return after two years amid the easing COVID-19 situation in the country, providing host of domestic cricketers an opportunity to make their name in red-ball cricket while giving veterans like Ajinkya Rahane and Cheteshwar Pujara a final shot at resurrecting their Test careers.

A third wave of COVID-19 had threatened the premier domestic event for the second year in a row but the drop in infections has allowed the BCCI to conduct the 38-team event, a massive logistical task in the new normal of bio-secure environments.

All eyes will be on the opening fixture between defending champions Saurashtra and record 41-time champions Mumbai here with Rahane and Pujara on either side, aiming to make the big scores that have deserted them at the Test level for a while.

Both veterans have been working hard in the nets and their coaches feel a big knock is around the corner. Rahane and Pujara will need to make instant impact with the Test squad of Sri Lanka series expected to be announced soon.

Nine bio-bubbles have been created across nine venues in the country and the players had to quarantine for five days, leaving them only two days of training for the first round beginning on Thursday.

The players, however, are in no mood to complain. They are just happy that they are finally getting to test themselves in the toughest form of the game after two seasons of white-ball cricket.

The batters had almost forgotten the art of leaving the ball and bowlers the relentlessness of long spells. Both the departments are up for the challenge but their bodies might take longer to get used to the hard grind of red-ball cricket.

"It is great that red ball cricket is starting. Players have suffered and lost a lot in the last two years both financially and skill-wise. They all are looking forward to the challenge," said Delhi coach Raj Kumar Sharma after the team's first training session on Monday, echoing the views of all teams.

It is also set to be the shortest first-class season for most teams with sides only getting three league games, impacting their match fees and leaving them with little room for error.

Eight groups of four teams each have been formed at the elite level while six teams will fight it out in the plate group. The knockouts, barring the sole pre-quarterfinal, will be held in the post IPL phase starting May 30.

It will also be a high pressure game as it will potentially decide the only quarterfinalist from the group.

The national selectors will also finally get to see the upcoming talent in action.

Only one India A tour has taken place over the past 24 months, the selectors have had to refer to part performances with no first-class cricket played in the country.

Focus will also be on fringe India players including Priyank Panchal, Abhimanyu Easwaran and Hanuma Vihari, who had been controversially dropped for the home series against New Zealand before making the team for the away series in South Africa.

Among the India U-19 stars, skipper Yash Dhull and Raj Aggar Bawa are expected to make their first-class debut soon after landing IPL contracts. Dhull will be in Guwahati playing for Delhi against Tamil Nadu.

Teams have been advised to keep two COVID-19 reserves in the squad. There is a good chance of a COVID outbreak midway into the game but the match will go on provided a team has a minimum of nine fit players.

Both teams will be awarded a point each if first innings is not completed.

The games will be played across Rajkot, Cuttack, Ahmedabad, Chennai, Thiruvananthapuram, Delhi, Haryana, Guwahati and Kolkata.

Thematic Funds: Leveraging on emerging themes

What do you notice when you look around yourself? Anything from a routine glance at the news reports to a discussion about the future will throw up a variety of trends and themes which are currently finding favour among people.

Thematic investments are gaining popularity as they allow you to invest in high conviction themes and ideas.

As an investment strategy, thematic investment focuses on visualising and predicting long-term trends, instead of evaluating specific companies or indices, when it comes to wealth allocation decisions. Thematic investment, if undertaken correctly, allows you to partake in the winnings of the theme and correspondingly grow your wealth.

If there is one aspect you should focus on, as a thematic investor, it is the emerging sectors, on a global level. Since the thematic investment strategy revolves around identifying emerging opportunities and structural shifts which can provide you better returns, you would need to monitor your portfolio regularly and rebalance routinely to generate maximum profit while facing the least possible amount of risk.

You can only be a successful thematic investor if you stay focused on emerging themes, know when to put your money in a theme, and when to let go of an investment which may have proved unwise.

Or, if you do not wish to put in all the effort, but still want to enjoy the benefits of thematic investments, you can invest in thematic advantage mutual funds.

These funds invest across emerging sectors, are managed by experienced professionals, and offer you strong returns, while allowing you to bet on the future and win big.

One plausible option could be the ICICI Prudential Thematic Advantage Fund (FoF), a fund of funds scheme which will invest its corpus in emerging opportunities across sectors and themes.

Why should you, as an investor, choose this fund?

Under the ICICI Prudential Thematic Advantage Fund investment philosophy, expert fund managers will monitor macroeconomic trends, identify emerging themes, shortlist major and minor themes and, based on these parameters, they will identify underlying and emerging themes and sectors most likely to offer growth potential.

Finally, with these in mind, the underlying scheme weightages will be decided. If you wish to participate in the future growth potential of your convictions, then thematic advantage funds are a great way to create tangible value.
