

High time to reclaim Indian territories illegally occupied by China, Pakistan: VC Ladakh University

Pakistan has no legal claim on PoJK: Shiv Pathak

STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: Vice-Chancellor of the University of Ladakh, Prof S K Mehta on Saturday emphasized on reclaiming the Indian territories illegally occupied by Pakistan and China.

Speaking on a lecture organized by the Centre for Ladakh & Jammu Kashmir Studies (Jammu Kashmir & Ladakh Chapter) in connection of Sankalp Diwas, Prof Mehta sought to draw attention towards the dangerous Pakistan-China nexus and stressed on keeping a strict watch on this nefarious alliance.

"This alliance is not based on any ideological similarities. It is not for the political survival of Pakistan and the expansive mindset of China", Prof Mehta said, adding, "We have to continuously review and assess this alliance and we have to reclaim our occupied territories".

Prof Mehta, however, expressed satisfaction that the incumbent leadership in the country has adopted a strong policy to frustrate nefarious designs.

"The lenient policy adopted by the previous regime has been replaced with strong policy by the present leadership", he said.

Pointing towards ongoing changes in the newly carved Union Territory of Ladakh, Prof Mehta said that developmental activities have been accelerated and the people of Ladakh are delighted after getting the Union Territory status. He said that residents of Ladakh as very patriotic.

Dr Shiv Pathak, Assistant Professor in Department of Political Science, Aryabhatta College, University of Delhi, who was the main speaker in the webinar, hoped that the present leadership in the country will liberate Indian territories illegally occupied by Pakistan and China.

"Not a single moment in Indian history when Jammu and Kashmir State was not part of Indian culture. It is high time to liberate areas of Jammu and Kashmir illegally occupied by Pakistan and China", Dr. Pathak said.

Pointing towards the 1994 Parliament resolution, he said that Parliament has passed the resolution to bring back the occupied territories with determination at a time when domestic and international politics were undergoing a massive level of change.

Dr. Pathak recalled how soon after the Independence, Pakistan had invaded and forcibly seized the areas of Mirpur, Muzaffarabad, and Gilgit-Baltistan.

Dr. Pathak said that it is high time to liberate Pakistan-Occupied Jammu and Kashmir (POJK) areas that were forcibly seized from India during Pakistan's aggression of Indian territory in 1947.

He further said that Northern areas of Gilgit-Baltistan are illegally occupied by Pakistan.

"The territory was part of the former princely state of Jammu and Kashmir and de-jure an integral part of India. China has also occupied the Aksai Chin and Sashkham Valley of Ladakh region", he said.

He said that the people of J&K were emotionally attached with PoJK as many natives of the region are living in different parts of J&K.

He pointed out that India's oldest University, Sharda Peeth is situated in the areas illegally occupied by Pakistan.

Dr. Ganesh Malhotra eminent columnist conducted the proceeding of the webinar. Lalit K Gupta presented a vote of thanks.
