5th Craft Safari traverses Down Town

STATE TIMES NEWS
SRINAGAR: Recognised as the UNESCO's Creative City in the field of Craft and Folk Art, Srinagar on Tuesday witnessed the fifth craft Safari. The Safari Started from Ranawari and included a team of the officers from the Handicrafts and Handloom Department including its Director, Intellectuals, Academic Scholars, Journalists, Tour operators, Students and people from other fields. The starting point of the safari was the Pottery unit of Mohammad Rafiq Kumar. The group was mesmerised to see the craft. The participants were made aware about the efforts that the Department is making to revive the pottery craft. Rain failed to stop the march of the team to the Silverware unit of Shamim Ahmad who has more than 30 years spent in the art of creating fascinating hand-crafted silver ornaments. Shamim, a master artisan associated with creating antique designs and classic silverware patterns, his collections are exported and admired by connoisseurs across the globe. After traversing the lanes and by lanes the team then reached to the Wood Carving unit of Farooq Ahmad Gadyari, whose unit is an epitome of ornamental and delicate craft process that is unique to Kashmir. The products of the unit present visually interesting effects with carving intricacies and varied designs. The motifs on the wooden artifacts are inspired from the various natural wonders of Kashmir, Chinar leaves, Vine leaves, flowers like Lotus and Rose. Then afterwards the elegant treasure of Copperware was witnessed by the team in the unit of Mohammad Ashraf Najar. Copperware has been an indispensable commodity in Kashmir since ages and the artisans associated with this particular craft are known for their work of engraving and for making household and decorative products. The designs have evolved a level up in the copperware as more people are showing interest in copper utensils owing to their benefits. The team felt nostalgic at the Namda unit of Mohammad Sidiq. Felting the wool rather than weaving it, makes Namda unique. The participants were taken aback after realizing the processes that make a complete Namda. The fifth edition of safari concluded by the visiting team to Zari unit of Nazir Ahmed Malla. Zari embroidery is done with fine needles. Zari thread of gold or silver is laid upon the fabric that makes it a master piece. Omar pitches for unity against divisive forces hell-bent to break idea of India in Chennai

CHENNAI: The Jammu and Kashmir National Conference Vice President Omar Abdullah on Tuesday asked the progressive forces of the country to fight unitedly against the divisive forces aiming to hurt the idea of India. This he said while addressing a function marking the release of the biography of the Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin "One Among You" the other day at Chennai. Taking exception to rising intolerance in the country, Omar said, "It is my right to choose whether to wear a skull cap, sport a beard or wear a hijab. The right to follow my religion should not be denied." Ruining the abrogation of Article 370 he said that the people of Jammu and Kashmir, his father and himself "underwent a period of adversity he could seldom imagine." "I don't think any of us thought of what we would have seen on Aug 5, 2019. That is when we woke up to who our real friends were. Because, a lot of people who we thought were friends were silent. All the people we thought would speak up at the unjust way people of Jammu and Kashmir were treated said nothing. A lot of people had great close personal relations with were not only just silent but were complicit and supportive of what happened on August 5, 2019." Taking a dig at the BJP-led NDA Government at the Centre Omar said what happened in his state, might not end there and might take place in other states. "My state was divided into 2 parts and downgraded to a UT without the consent of the people of J&K, what stops them from doing the same thing to Kerala or Tamil Nadu. This must concern us all," he said. He said he had come all the way from J&K to Chennai to highlight this. What we are fighting is for our rights. And it is a just fight, genuine fight and an imbalanced one. "We are not fighting a political party, we are fighting a complete machinery," he added. Omar also appealed to leaders of all like-minded parties, who were present on the dais and those across the country to unite to fight against such divisive moves of those in power. He further stated that the function served as an added cause of showing unity among the progressive forces of the country. Later, Omar visited a hospital to enquire about the condition of a 27-year-old Kashmiri woman who was attacked with acid in Srinagar and brought to Chennai for specialised treatment. Accompanied by Tamil Nadu Health Minister Ma Subramanian, and Political Advisor Tanvir Sadiq Omar Abdullah met the family members of the woman, who has lost her eyesight and whose face was disfigured in the attack. The Tamil Nadu Health Minister assured Abdullah, the National Conference vice president, that he would personally look into the matter and do whatever is best for the woman.
