Poem — Kota- The Hanging Ropes

Kota, a city of dreams and despair, lost in the chaos, unable to repair.
The weight of expectations, burdens bear pushing some to the edge and disappear.

In Kota, far from home, students miss their families and happiness gone.
In crowded classrooms, they feel alone,
and sometimes wish they could be gone.

Through the long hours of study and strive,
they carved the comfort of their family life.
They look up at the sky, often have tears in their eyes,
finding solace in its beauty, under star-lit skies.

A child is bounded by expectations in a relentless chain,
In Kota's tight grasp, child feels the strain.
Alone in the crowd, emotions left bear, in hustle, it's a lonely affair.

Dr. Daisy Parihar

Ah! In the city, where dreams take flight,
That hanging ropes from roof, tells of a darker plight.
In the search of bright future, let's not forget,
that success isn't confined to Kota's gate.

In nurturing environment, let them bloom,
where their ambitions find ample room.
Each child's journey's unique and rare,
so ensure not to impose but handle their dreams with care.

So, is it necessary to send them away?
Let's explore the options day by day.
Let's cherish their laughter, and wipe their tears,
their happiness matter throughout the year.

Poem — WHY!

A biggest WHY stood in front of me,
As the world seems going against me.
To the things which look strange,
The people not seems in range.

A biggest WHY stood in front of me,
As one approach the steps towards me.

Makeup Artist

Beauty has a way of capturing attention.. Beauty treatments & fashion trends has always been in vogue but today more and more people have become conscious about their looks. With the boom in entertainment industry, and more competition in modeling as well as fashion field, the demand for good looks has come up like never before. This has resulted in a need for professionals to make people look good.. and here comes the role of a make up artist. One of the first tell-tale signs of a budding make up artist is an innate passion to experiment with different looks, try them out on themselves and their friends. Make-up is an art and a make-up artist is a professional artist who uses mediums applied to the skin to transform or enhance the appearance of a person. Make-up artist uses human skin as a canvas and makeup as a medium. These professionals prepare individuals for appearance in front of cameras or a live audience. They apply makeup and prosthetics for theatrical, television, film, fashion shows, magazines and other similar productions including all aspects of the modeling industry. Individuals who require constant services of these artists include models, film stars, high-profile individuals who are always in the news etc. Make-Up Artists are often referred to as Cosmetologists or Beauticians, but are different in that they specialize only in make-up and typically do not offer other services such as hair or nail care. Whereas a cosmetologist is trained in the study and application of beauty treatment, not limited to only make-up, but also include hair and nail treatment, beauty treatment, and other areas. A makeup artist belongs to the aesthetic branch of cosmetology that specializes in the application of cosmetics to a person's face, by using such products as foundation or powder, blush, or eye makeup. There are two main categories of makeup artist. Fashion artists who prepare fashion models for photo shoots, and theatrical or film makeup artist. While fashion makeup artist work with designers to create a certain look for the model, such as emphasizing lip shape or cheekbones; theatrical or film makeup artist enhances an actor's features to emphasize the character he or she plays in performance art.

Educational Qualification:
Academic qualifications is not a necessity to be a makeup artist, only requirement is passion for the work and interest to make experiments in looks. However, short term courses in cosmetology / beauty care/ make up can horn your skills. As a makeup artist, you could start as an assistant or apprentice to a reputed makeup artist. On-the-job training though paid or unpaid, is considered to be of higher value than just academic qualifications.
