

Crew actress Kriti Sanon feels people in film industry should genuinely support each other; says 'I don't see that unity so much'

The first quarter of 2024 has been amazing for Kriti Sanon. Firstly, Teri Baaton Mein Aisa Uljha Jiya with Shahid Kapoor and then Crew with Tabu and Kareena Kapoor Khan, both films, did amazingly well at the box office. Of Course, Crew is still successfully running in cinemas. And as she is basking in the success of her recent releases, Kriti Sanon has talked about how there is a lack of unity in the industry people. She is hoping that it changes.

Kriti Sanon opened up on how nice it would be to see people from within the industry actually supporting each other rather than just pretending, reports Indian Express. She feels the industry would be someplace else if people genuinely started supporting each other and genuinely feeling good about each others' successes. She feels people should not just do it for the heck of it but just be there or applaud and compliment each other.

Kriti says, "I don't see that unity so much here. I don't know how many people are genuinely happy when a film does well but I think that's changing a little bit. At least, I am hoping." The actress says compliments do make a difference. As actors, she says, they are driven through such compliments as they thrive on validation.

She reveals she has come across some really hurtful comments. The actress believes that a film's success or failure does not belong to a single person. It is teamwork, it belongs to the whole team. However, Kriti doesn't focus on all the negatives and feels her work should speak for itself. Kriti also adds that not just in movies but also in sports women are blamed for the failure. Kriti, Kareena Kapoor Khan and Tabu starrer Crew have minted Rs 94.58 crore worldwide at the box office so far.

Recipes

Cheesy Tortilla Wrap

Ingredients
4 tortillas
1 cup sliced & slit baby onions
1 cup chopped into cubes paneer
1/4 tablespoon tamrind chutney
1/2 cup grated low fat mozzarella cheese
1/2 cup sliced & slit tomato
1/4 cup green chutney
2 tablespoon extra virgin olive oil

Method:
Take the tortilla and divide it into four sections. The four different sections will have different ingredients. Make a half vertical cut on the tortilla so that it gets wrapped easily.

Start by adding tamarind and green chutneys to one part of the tortilla. Spread it evenly so that you get a chatpata flavour in the tortilla.

It's time for some protein, so add the paneer cubes to the second portion (vertically). You can also add tofu instead of paneer cubes.

Make sure the paneer cubes are chopped into small cubes. In the third portion, add tomatoes and onions.

The fourth portion has the star element of the recipe, i.e., cheese. Add grated cheese and then wrap the tortilla starting from the side which was slit vertically.

Once, you have wrapped your tortilla well, heat some ghee on a grilling pan and then put the tortilla on it. Cook it from both sides carefully till the cheese melts properly. And it's done. Your cheesy tortilla wrap is ready. The perfect meal for your dinner. Enjoy !

5 tricks that will help detox every morning

In the rush of life, we simply forget how important it is to start our mornings on a good note. On the other hand, our morning routine can determine the course of the day. You may cleanse your mind, body, and spirit in the morning by implementing easy-to-use yet effective procedures. This will provide the groundwork for a happier, healthier existence. Here are 5 easy and powerful morning rituals that can help you clear your mental system and start the day on a positive note. These techniques, which range from encouraging acceptance to adopting mindfulness, are meant to assist you in developing a feeling of inner calm and renewal every morning.

Find peace in acceptance
One of the first steps towards detoxifying your mornings is welcoming acceptance. Instead of dwelling on past regrets or worrying about the future, practice accepting the present moment as it is. Allow yourself to acknowledge any negative thoughts or emotions without judgment, and then gently let them go. By finding peace in acceptance, you can free yourself from unnecessary stress and start your day with a clear and calm mind.

Ask meaningful questions to yourself
To cultivate a sense of mindfulness and self-awareness, consider asking yourself meaningful questions each morning. Reflect on what truly matters to you, what you're grateful for, and what actions align with your values and goals. By starting your day with intention and introspection, you can set a positive tone for the hours ahead and make conscious choices that support your well-being.

Click unfollow often
Detoxifying your mornings goes beyond just social media – it also involves decluttering your life from negative influences and toxic relationships. Take a proactive approach to "unfollow" anything that drains your energy or brings unnecessary drama into your life. Whether it's limiting interactions with toxic individuals or setting boundaries with negative habits, prioritise your mental and emotional health by unfollowing anything that doesn't serve your greater good.

Start journaling
Journaling can be a powerful tool for detoxifying your mornings and promoting self-reflection. Take a few moments each morning to write down your thoughts, feelings, and intentions for the day ahead. Whether you prefer free-form journaling or structured prompts, the act of putting pen to paper can help you gain clarity, release pent-up emotions, and create a sense of gratitude and positivity.

Meditation is crucial
Add meditation into your morning routine to promote mental clarity and inner peace. Whether you prefer guided meditation, exercises, or simply sitting in silence, dedicating even just a few minutes to meditation can have a magical effect on your overall well-being. Use this time to quiet the mind, connect with your breath, and cultivate a sense of inner calm that will carry you through the rest of the day.

Korean skincare tips for lazy girls

Taking care of your skin is essential, but it doesn't have to be a time-consuming chore, especially for those who prefer a low-maintenance routine. Korean skincare, known for its emphasis on hydration, gentle products, and multitasking formulations, offers a range of tips and products perfect for lazy girls looking to achieve healthy and radiant skin with minimal effort. Here are some Korean skincare tips tailored specifically for those who prefer simplicity and efficiency:

Double Cleansing: Start your skincare routine with a double cleanse, using an oil-based cleanser followed by a water-based cleanser. This method effectively removes makeup, sunscreen, and impurities without stripping the skin's natural oils.

Use Multifunctional Products: Opt for multitasking products that combine multiple skincare steps into one, such as all-in-one moisturizers with added benefits like SPF protection or brightening ingredients. This simplifies your routine while still providing essential skincare benefits.

Sheet Masks: Sheet masks are a lazy girl's best friend when it comes to skincare. They deliver potent ingredients directly to the skin in a convenient and mess-free manner. Choose sheet masks infused with hydrating and soothing ingredients like hyaluronic acid and aloe vera for a quick skin pick-me-up and make one glow like anything.

Hydrating Toners: Incorporate hydrating toners into your skincare routine to provide an extra layer of moisture without the heaviness of creams or lotions. Look for toners with humectant ingredients like glycerin and hyaluronic acid to replenish and hydrate the skin.

Spot Treatments: For targeted skincare concerns such as acne or dark spots, use spot treatments that contain potent ingredients like salicylic acid or niacinamide. Apply them directly to problem areas to address specific concerns without having to treat the entire face.

Simplify Your Routine: Keep your skincare routine simple and streamlined by focusing on a few key steps that address your skin's needs. Overloading your skin with too many products can be overwhelming and counterproductive. Stick to the basics: cleanse, tone, moisturize, and protect with sunscreen during the day.

Nighttime Masks: Incorporate overnight sleeping masks into your nighttime routine for an extra boost of hydration and nourishment while you sleep. These masks work overnight to replenish moisture levels and improve the overall texture and appearance of your skin.

Sunscreen: Never skip sunscreen, even on lazy days indoors. Choose a lightweight, broad-spectrum sunscreen with a high SPF to protect your skin from harmful UV rays and prevent premature aging and sun damage.
