Every year 8th May is observed as World Red Cross Day to celebrate the seven fundamental principles of Humanity, Impartiality, Neutrality, Independence, Voluntary Service, Unity and Universality of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement.

The Red Cross humanitarian network with millions of volunteers across the world, strives to alleviate human suffering, protect life and health, and uphold human dignity, especially during conflicts and other emergencies.

The International Federation inspires, facilitates and promotes all humanitarian activities and these past months and years, they have served people across the world who have been affected by the Covid 19 pandemic.

The volunteers of Indian Red Cross Society in Jammu and Kashmir have been spreading the acts of kindness by way of reaching out to the destitute and most needy sections of the society with essential supplies like medicines, food, blankets, personal protective material, hygiene items etc in times of need.

On this World Red Cross Day, we pay tribute to the dedicated volunteers who contributed to prevent and alleviate human suffering. I urge fellow citizens to acknowledge the message of collective good and unite in the face of crisis to serve the needy.
