Training for home voting poll staff held

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

KUPWARA: In preparation for the upcoming home voting process to be held on 14, 15 and 16 May in Assembly Segment Handwara of 01-Baramulla Parliamentary Constituency, a comprehensive training session was today conducted for Home Voting poll staff at Town Hall Handwara.

The training was imparted by Nodal Officer Election, Sameer Jan. He deliberated on a range of topics including election procedures, ballot handling, communication strategies and other necessary tools used to facilitate Home voting. Nodal Officer emphasized strategies for providing assistance and ensuring accessibility to guarantee that every eligible voter can exercise their right to vote.

staff members, Para Legal Volunteers (PLVs) of DLSA Srinagar, along with enthusiastic law students from University of Kashmir, Kashmir Law College, and Vitasta Law College Nowgam Srinagar.

In his special remarks, Chairman DLSA, Srinagar, underscored the importance of training and capacity building for law students and other stakeholders in adapting to the technological advancements in the justice delivery system and emphasized the pressing need for the integration of technological tools in the Justice Delivery System.

Secretary DLSA emphasized the significance of the program and stressed the need to engage law students about the technological developments made in the justice delivery system, ensuring they are well-equipped to navigate the evolving landscape of legal practice.

The highlight of the event was a detailed PowerPoint presentation by Tariq Ahmad Malik, System Officer, District Court Complex, Srinagar, showcasing the various e-Court services made available to the various stakeholders of the justice delivery system under the e-Court Project.

The presentation demonstrated how technology has streamlined processes, improved access to justice, and enhanced efficiency in the legal system.

The program provided a platform for interactive sessions, allowing participants to gain insights into the practical applications of IT tools in legal proceedings. It also served as a catalyst for fostering collaboration between the legal fraternity and technology experts towards achieving a more transparent, accessible, and efficient justice system.
