■ STATE TIMES NEWS

NEW DELHI: The Delhi government will provide free electricity connections to shops run by Kashmiri Pandits in INA market here, Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia said on Tuesday. All expenses from installation of transformers to electricity connections will be borne by the Kejriwal government and the entire work will be completed within a month, he said. "Kejriwal government is determined to work towards upliftment of Kashmiri Pandits in Delhi instead of politicising their issues," the deputy chief minister said. Earlier this year, the BJP had targeted Kejriwal over his comments on 'The Kashmir

Files', a movie that depicts the plight of Kashmiri Pandits. On Tuesday, Sisodia held a meeting with senior officials of the departments concerned, including BSES and Public Works Department, and directed them to immediately inspect the earmarked place to install transformers and ensure electricity connections within a month. Earlier, a delegation of Kashmiri Pandits had apprised Kejriwal about the issue of power connections in the market. The delegation had informed the chief minister that there were more than 100 shops of Kashmiri Pandits in INA market, and they had been shifted several times previously because of various construction activities.

Time for Kashmiris to rise against Pakistan, its proxies: Rana

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: Saying enough is enough, Senior BJP leader Mr Devender Singh Rana on Tuesday observed that selective killings are acts of terrorism aimed at creating disharmony, adding people of Kashmir, particularly the civil society must come out strongly and openly against Pakistan and her proxies who are responsible for such dastardly killings.

Rana hoped the people of Kashmir will come forward to restore pristine glory of the Valley that has received huge dent by the alien gun culture over the past three decades.

He strongly condemned the yet another barbaric killing of a school teacher in Chawalgam area of the Kulgam district by terrorists and said the inhuman act speaks of a sinister campaign to create fear psychosis, instability and discord between the communities in order to keep the Valley boiling. This is an attempt to settle the process of normalisation that has resulted in fillip to economic activities in the Valley in recent times. He said this is an uncomfortable situation for Pakistan and it's lackeys, who are desperate to reverse the positives achieved by the security forces with the cooperation of the people. The enemies of peace are, therefore, working overtime to revert back the Valley to the dark tunnel again that has already undergone colossal damage to its culture, heritage and way of life of the people, who essentially believe in amity and brotherhood, he said.

Rana also decried the attempts of creating alibis and providing cover fire to the perpetrators of lunatic violence by disgruntled elements in terms of raking up non-issues like talks with Pakistan etc to further their political agenda. In their nefarious pursuit, they are causing much harm to Kashmir peace and normalcy. He hoped the people will see through their game plan and unequivocally raise their voice against terror ecosystem.

"Was the crime of Rajni Bala to educate young children so grave and unpardonable to warrant bullets in the chest", Rana asked, adding that the people will not tolerate such an abuse to their glorious heritage, known the world over. He said terrorism has no place in the civilized society and exuded confidence that ultimately the monster of terror will eat up the vitals of its mentor.

Rana said such acts of dastardly violence will not deter the Nation's resolve to uproot terrorism, punish the perpetrators and their handlers. He said terrorism is on its last leg in Kashmir and those struggling to give it a new life will perish.

The senior BJP leader conveyed his condolences to the bereaved family, prayed for peace to the departed soul and strength to all her nears and dears to bear this irreparable loss.

Untimely rains, hailstorms cause extensive damages to Horti, Agri sectors in Valley

■ SHAKEELA ANDRABI

SRINAGAR: Frequent rains, hailstorms and gusty winds have left Valley farmers in dire straits, as orchards in Shopian, Kulgam, Kupwara, Baramulla and Budgam districts suffered great damages, approximate about 30 per cent to 40 per cent. On April 24, thunderstorm along with massive hailstorm occurred at many places of North Kashmir, which wreaked havoc in many villages of Baramulla and Kupwara district causing damage to apple orchards and walnut trees.

Hailstorm lasted for about 8 minutes which resulted in heavy damage to apple, walnuts, cherry and vegetable at numerous villages including Puthwari, Nowgam, Reshwari, Yahama, Mawerbala, Lawoosa, Qalamabad, Audoora, Shatgundbala and Drangsoo. Again on April 26, another strong hailstorm hit parts of Srinagar, including Tangmarg and Gulmarg. In Tangmarg, the hailstorm was witnessed for about 5 to 7 minutes while it lasted for more than 10 minutes in Gulmarg, which caused damage to standing crops and orchards.

Another hailstorm within two days in South Kashmir damaged apple fruit and buds in about a dozen of villages. Orchardists said that hailstorm lasted for around 25 minutes in afternoon and damaged 50 to 80 percent of the apple crop in. The villages which were affected due to the hailstorm include Kapran, Vehil, Chak Nowgam, Chak Kachdoora, Kanjiullar, Dangam, Wangam, Pandushan and other adjoining areas.

The dry spell in March and first week of April has already caused problems for fruit-growers. March, which is usually considered wettest month, saw very few spells of rain this year. Experts believe the current dry spell is a result of global warming. "The dry spell and then untimely heavy rains with thunderstorms and hailstorm is caused by global warming and Kashmir is also witnessing the same effect," said an officer of Sher e Kashmir University of Agricultural sciences and Technology.

A horticulture official said that the department is constituting a team to access extent of losses. DG Horticulture also shared few pictures showing how the hailstorm had caused damage to orchards at different places. Meanwhile, as per forecast issued by Meteorological (MeT) Department for next 24 hours, a brief spell of rain/thunderstorms may occur at some pockets and there is no forecast of any major rain spell for next few days.
