

Naqsh-i-Dawaam: Srinagar hosts week long Exhibition on architectural epigraphy

■ MASROOR AHMAD

SRINAGAR: A week long exhibition 'Naqsh-i-Dawaam', focusing on the historical writings found on buildings in the Valley commenced at the Kashmir Arts Emporium in Srinagar. The organisers said the event is an effort to document, translate, and map these writings on Kashmir's religious structures. The inaugural ceremony saw prominent figures including Islamic University Vice-Chancellor Dr. Shakil Romshoo, who pledged collaboration for future initiatives in architectural epigraphy. Director Handloom and Handicrafts Mehmoor Ahmad Shah and other dignitaries were also present in the inaugural session.

The exhibition showcased detailed drawings, photos, and translations of the carvings, engravings, and paintings. Dr. Hakim Sameer Hamdani, who led the project, said he was happy about the exhibition of these calligraphic inscriptions in Kashmir. Speaking on occasion, Dr Sameer Hamdani said the exhibition is based on the work that has been done over the period of one year; the grant came from the Barakat Trust in London, which looks into the art, architecture and history of Islamic world. "This is a project based on the time period from 14th to 19th century and it looks into the texts, calligraphy on Khanqas, Imambaras, Mosques Overall it gives you an idea about Kashmir. I am delighted to present the first open exhibition of calligraphic inscriptions on historic buildings in Kashmir."

The project is led by principal investigator Mehran Qureshi, the project highlights important inscriptions from the 14th century Sultanate rule to the present. These inscriptions, spanning over four centuries, offer deep insights into Kashmir's rich heritage.

"The exhibition is an attempt to bring to light the hidden masterpieces of Kashmir history writings that are otherwise ignored by larger academia and masses. Studying such inscriptions lead to clarification in history. I foresee a lot more of such unique undocumented work happening in coming years that needs institutional and academic support to recreate pages of the otherwise lost Heritage," said Ilyas Rizvi, an oral historian and participant in the exhibition. Organisers say the exhibition aspires to resuscitate these manuscripts, many of which succumbed to the ravages of time. The exposition also exhibits chronicled locales, erudite translations, photographic evidence and reconstituted illustrations, thereby offering an exceedingly rarefied glimpse into the rich heritage of Kashmir.

CCI calls for elimination of terrorists, their overground workers, supporters

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: In a meeting of Office Bearers of the Chamber of Commerce & Industry held on Monday at Chamber House, Arun Gupta, President CCI, strongly condemned the cowardly act of terrorism involving firing by terrorists on a pilgrim's bus returning from the holy cave of Shiv Khori.

A two-minute silence was observed to pay homage to the departed souls, and prayers were offered for the speedy recovery of the injured persons. The meeting also expressed sympathies with the bereaved families in this hour of grief.

Arun Gupta highlighted the recurrent attacks by militants on security forces and the general public in areas like Rajouri, Kalakot, and Surankot. He expressed concern over the fact that despite the strict vigil and alertness of security forces, the militants responsible for such incidents remain at large.

Demanding swift action, Arun Gupta called for the elimination of terrorists, their overground workers, and supporters. He urged the international community to raise their voice against all forms of terrorism and to censure Pakistan for openly supporting and promoting terrorism in Jammu and Kashmir.

Expressing concerns about the efforts of fundamentalists to disrupt peace and brotherhood between different communities, Arun Gupta reaffirmed the Chamber's belief in the resilience of the people of Jammu and Kashmir in upholding secularism and resisting divisive agendas.

Arun Gupta also appealed to the LG Administration to strengthen security and other agencies in anticipation of events like the Amarnath Yatra, Budha Amarnath Yatra, and Machail Yatra, to prevent any such incidents during the upcoming pilgrimages.

Other office bearers present in the meeting included Anil Gupta, Senior Vice President, Rajeev Gupta, Junior Vice President, Manish Gupta, Secretary-General, and Rajesh Gupta, Secretary.
