SSP Kishtwar conducts security review with operational grid ahead of upcoming Yatras, festivities

■ STATE TIMES NEWS
KISHTWAR: In preparation for the forthcoming Yatras and festivities, Senior Superintendent of Police (SSP) Kishtwar Shri Abdul Qayoom-JKPS held comprehensive security briefings with key officials at the District Police Lines (DPL) Kishtwar. The briefing sessions included interactions with the In-Charge of the Special Operations Group (IC SOG) camp and the In-Charge of the Special Police Picket(IC SPP). These meetings focused on the meticulous planning and implementation of security measures to ensure a peaceful and orderly environment during these critical events. During the briefings, SSP Kishtwar addressed several critical issues, including military, bovine smuggling, drug peddling, timber smuggling, and other criminal activities. The SSP emphasized the need for heightened vigilance and proactive measures to counter these threats effectively. Detailed strategies were discussed to handle potential challenges and ensure the safety and security of the citizens. SSP Kishtwar highlighted the importance of inter-departmental coordination and intelligence sharing. In recognition of exemplary performance, the SSP rewarded several officials who played pivotal roles in providing timely and actionable information that led to significant breakthroughs in ongoing investigations and operations. Furthermore, the SSP Kishtwar issued necessary directions to all officials to maintain high levels of alertness and ensure thorough communication and cooperation. He also warned that any officials who fail to share vital information or neglect their duties will face strict actions as per the law. The briefing session was attended by the Dy. SP Hqrs Kishtwar Dr. Ishan Gupta, Dy. SP PC Sh. Vishal Sharma, IC SOG and Insp Dil Raj Singh and other officers.

welfare measure of the Police department and there is not a second thought about it is that providing quality education to the children of police personnel especially because all of us are very deeply mindful of the fact that the children of the police personnel lose out on parenting front because of the nature of their job and mostly they live away from family and the children. The DGP said, "My vision is to establish a chain of schools in all districts and sub-divisions, offering a safe and nurturing environment where children can grow academically and personally." The core values of the institution should focus on building a strong foundation in education, keeping children safe from drugs, abuse, and discrimination, instilling dignity, equality, and core life values. He said that we are committed to the educational interests of children, particularly those of our police personnel. We recognize that the nature of our job can lead to challenges for our children, including limited access to quality education. To address this, we aim to establish schools not only in headquarters districts but also in every district and sub-divisions, and even at the tehsil Police level. He said that to empower children through education, making them capable of achieving their full potential, the Police department is committed to providing dedicated, motivated, sincere, and competent teachers, lead by equally competent principal and offering a comprehensive curriculum with a focus on academic and non-academic development of the children, and creating a supportive and inclusive environment for all students. On the occasion DGP,J&K felicitated 12 teachers and 12 topper students of J&K PPS Miran Sahib/ Prof. Rasmita Das Swain, hoped that the addition of 6 Smart Class Panels will make learning an engaging and interesting process and increase the capacity of students to understand and comprehend tricky concepts quickly and effectively.
