PDL/TDL workers of PDD suspend agitation for 15 days following assurance from MD JPDCL

■ STATE TIMES NEWS
JAMMU: The long-standing protest by PDL/TDL workers of the Power Development Department (PDD), who have been serving across various corporations in Jammu and Kashmir for over 25 years, was temporarily suspended today for 15 days. The decision came following an assurance from the Managing Director (MD) of Jammu Power Distribution Corporation Ltd. (JPDCL) regarding their long-pending demands, primarily centered around regularization and release of pending wages.

In a press conference held in Jammu, Akhil Sharma, President of the PDL/TDL Workers Union, strongly criticized the JPDCL management for inviting private contractors to provide manpower on a contractual basis. He stated that this move directly undermines the interests of nearly 10,000 PDL/TDL workers who are yet to be regularized despite the framing of rules for their regularization nearly three years ago. Sharma emphasized that the workers, who have served with dedication for decades, are being made to feel irrelevant through attempts at privatization. "Instead of acknowledging our contributions and resolving our issues, the management is attempting to bring in private contractors, which is a blatant sabotage of our demand for regularization," he asserted.

One of the major grievances raised was the non-payment of pending wages of several years. Workers alleged that before clearing their dues, the department is engaging private manpower, which they believe is a strategy to sideline the existing workforce.

Following intense protests and deliberations, the MD JPDCL met with union representatives and assured them that their case for regularization and financial concurrence from the Finance Department will be actively pursued and expedited within a 15-day time frame. Taking note of this assurance, the Union decided to suspend their agitation temporarily.

However, union leaders have made it clear that if the commitments made by the administration are not fulfilled within the agreed timeframe, the protest will resume with greater intensity. They urged the government to honor the services and sacrifices of the PDL/TDL workers and ensure justice through immediate regularization and clearance of all financial dues.

The development marks a temporary pause in the ongoing struggle, but the underlying issues remain unresolved. The coming days will be crucial as all eyes are now on the administration to act decisively and address the legitimate concerns of these essential workers.
