JAMMU: Hitting out at the ruling BJP for its alleged terror connections, Congress on Saturday sought answers from the saffron party over its links with a LeT terrorist arrested in Jammu and Kashmir and demanded a high level probe into it. AICC representative Sukhpal Singh Khara told reporters here on Saturday that the Congress does not believe in playing politics over serious national issues like terrorism. JKPC Chief Spokesperson Ravinder Sharma, senior leaders of PCC including General Secretary Th Balwan Singh, Yogesh Sawhney, Mannohan Singh, Gurdarshan Singh, Neeraj Gupta, Gajan Singh, Kapil

Singh, Sahil Sharma, Chander Shekhar and others were also present in the press conference. Launching a scathing attack on BJP for various incidents of terror connections in past, which is quite serious and unfortunate, as saffron party leaders take nationalism high on its agenda for vote bank politics, he questioned nationalist credentials of others who had sacrificed lives for the nation but then why the presence of terrorists in their cadre goes unexplained by BJP? Referring to the issue of Talib Hussain Shah, a dreaded LeT terrorist prominent leader of IT Cell of BJP in J&K, who was spotted in the photograph with even Home Minister, Khara said how a simple denial by BJP is

The devotees' enroute were chanting bhajans and singing songs in the praise of Lord Jagannath.
"The pulling of Rath (Cart) during the Rath Yatra procession by the devotees symbolized the attempt of the residents of Vrindavan to bring Krishna, Balarama and Subdhara back to Vrindavan from Kurukshetra. "This Jagannath Rath Yatra has been celebrated for thousands of years in the Holy abode of Shri Jagannath Puri, Odisha. King Indradyumna had constructed the giant temple two thousand years back and A.C. Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabupada (prophesied senapati of Lord Chaitanaya Mahaprabhu) spread this legacy to the Western world and established International Society For Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON) in New York in 1966. His message to the world was Vasudeva Lutumbakam, meaning: The Whole World is one family of The Lord, so we are supposed to live in harmony by treating everyone as a part and parcel of that Supreme Lord", informed by ISKCON Dream City, Muthi Jammu.

Lack of infrastructure, staff causing problems in Government schools

■ SHAKEELA ANDRABI
SRINAGAR: Government of Jammu & Kashmir has introduced major changes in education sector with path-breaking decisions to ensure quality, equity, accessibility, accountability and affordability in the system. Department of School Education has also claimed that they have achieved landmark strides so far by effectively implementing all schemes and projects, thereby envisaging a notable improvement in existing curriculum besides embarking upon various innovative new projects and works. Over last two years, SED also claimed to have registered around new admissions of 1 lakh students in various Government schools.
Almost half of the academic session is over, but the department is yet to provide textbooks to students in government schools particularly the newly enrolled students. The schools are facing a dearth of textbooks as per the enrollment of previous year, which speaks volumes about miscalculation and mismanagement in the department. During the enrollment, department conducted door to door visits and motivated parents to admit their kids in government schools, as Government is providing free textbooks, free uniform and MDM for kids in schools.

Project Director Samagra Shiksha claimed that infrastructure in schools witnessed tremendous upgradation and improvement. According to the official figures, around 1164 construction works under Samagra Shiksha comprising of School Buildings, additional accommodation, toilets, boundary walls and teachers' quarters have been completed with a financial implication of around Rs 95 crore, besides other construction works under UT/District CAPEX budget and JKID-FC. In April, STATE TIMES carried a detailed report regarding poor conditions of Government schools in the Valley. There are still numerous examples in Valley where most of the Government schools in remote areas are deprived of school heads, with shortage of teachers.

According to latest reports Aadoo Pahalgam High school in District Anantnag has only 5 teachers with 100 students. Earlier it was reported that schools in Gurez are teacher-deficient as around 33 posts of lecturers are vacant in higher secondary schools across Gurez Education Zone. Further, the Government has failed to provide adequate accommodation to students in rural schools forcing them to attend classes under open sky. At times, students of more than one class are made to sit in a room by teachers leaving no scope for students to grasp what they are being taught. In reality, Government schools are deprived of proper classrooms and adequate staff, at a time when Government is making tall claims of imparting quality education and having equipped schools with other facilities.

Even though there are growth figures, the ground situation of government run schools is not satisfactory. The acute shortage of teaching staff in government-run schools has triggered a 'crisis-like' situation across J&K. According to reports, "256 posts of masters against total 437 and 43 of headmasters out of 59 also lying vacant in district Ramban."

The officials of education department and the teachers convince parents to discharge their kids from private schools and get them enrolled in government schools where they can get free and compulsory education up to elementary level, but parents are worried because Government teachers are not dedicated to their profession and if they would enroll their wards in government schools, it would be quite detrimental to their children's future.

Often parents are heard saying ‘Aajkal Bachchon Ki Padhayee Ke Kharche Bahut Badh Gaye Hain, why?

Why not have Indian School Education Services / State Education Services like we have Indian Forest Service ?

■ DAYA SAGAR
Government School are if made to deliver the supposedly delegated teaching services many parents would be relieved of an unnecessary additional expenditure atleast on the school education of their children thereby freeing them of the need to compromise on some of their social and public responsibilities.
Some people ask why do all government servants are not made to send their children to government schools where the teachers are better qualified and are paid (a Jr School Teacher of scale 25500- 81100 may be getting on date around Rs.40908/ (including DA 34% wef 01012022) plus Child Education allowance plus Child Hostel subsidy Allowance)much better than most of the private school teachers? Some people ask when a Director School Education / a Commissioner Secretary School Education does not send his /her children to Government School / a Head Master of a Government school does not recommend his school to his family/ friends/ and a Deputy Commissioner does not send his/her ward to a government school then why should other government employees be forced to send their children to government schools ? Some say that in case the government officers / Senior officers feel it below dignity / status to send their children to government schools they why are they paid dearness allowance, they are not they 'rich' people ?

And above all even many labourers are found compromising with their basic needs while looking for some private academy / private tuition for their child even when they have a government school nearby with more qualified teachers.
In earlier days the government employee segment was one segment that used to get disturbed when the cost of living used to increase. But these days it appears that the government employees, though they at occasion do make some demands like that for a new pay commissions, are not that much under pressing economic pressures since they are covered by regular pay commissions after every 10 yrs, allowances like DA (8600-8700 @34% presently for jr school teacher) , HRA (4000-4100 Jr school teacher , Child Education Allowance (presently Rs.2250 to 4500/pm), Child Hostel Subsidy allowance (Rs.6750 to Rs.13500/pm), Transport allowance (may be around Rs.2300-2400 Jr school teacher) . So strangely when government spends so much money on government schools still government employees are paid Child education allowance of Rs.2250 per child per pm upto 2 children ? Employees of education department too are paid these allowances. What justification the government has ?

Allahabad (now Prayagraj) bench of UP High Court had in 2015 (Judgement Court 34 of Hon'ble Sudhir Agarwal, J. Delivered on 18.08.2015) had directed the Chief Secretary UP Government at para 90 " to take appropriate action in the matter in consultation with other Officials, responsible in this regard to ensure that the children/wards of Government servants, semi-Government servants, local bodies, representatives of people, judiciary and all such persons who receive any perk, benefit or salary etc. from State exchequer or public fund, send their child/children/wards who are in age of receiving primary education, to Primary Schools run by Board. He shall also ensure to make penal provisions for those who violate this condition; for example, if a child is sent to a Primary School not maintained by Board, the amount of fee etc. paid in such privately managed Primary School, an equal amount shall be deposited in the Government funds, every month, so long as such education in other kind of Primary School is continued. is amount collected can be utilised for betterment of schools of Board. Besides, such person, if in service, should also be made to suffer other benefits like increment, promotional avenues for certain period, as the case may be. This is only illustrative. The appropriate provisions can be made by Government so as to ensure that ward(s)/child/children of persons, as detailed above, are compelled necessarily to receive primary education in the Primary Schools run by Board. And at Para -91 With regard to directions contained in Para 90, effective steps shall be taken by Chief Secretary within six months so as to make the aforesaid directions effective from the next academic session of Primary Schools, and, a compliance report shall be submitted to this Court by way of affidavit immediately after expiry of period of six months."It was reported by PTI in Oct 2018 that a plea was also filed by advocate Shiv Kumar Tripathi before Apex Court challenging the Allahabad High Court's order refusing to initiate contempt proceedings against the state government for not complying with the earlier judgment that had directed that kids of government servants, local bodies' representatives, judicial officers, who receive perks and salary from the state exchequer, should study in schools run by the Uttar Pradesh Board the present status of that could not be retrieved at the time of writing this story. Anyhow surely the order of 2015 has not been implemented in letter and spirit till date.

But no proportionate action worth relief to common man and saving people of the expenditure they unnecessarily make on sending children to private schools appears to have been taken by UP Government what to talk of other State Government / Centre government.
In case no one prefers to send child to a government school then why should government pay so much to government teachers? In case majority of the government schools do not carry the faith of the common man (even government teachers) as regards the education of one's children then why question thousands of school teachers, why not question only the Director School Education / Commissioner Education who are responsible for supervision/ administration ?
In case Directors/ Commissioners presently come from different services why not have Indian School Education Services / State Education Services like we have Indian Forest Service.
