NHM Employees Association Kishtwar welcomes state leadership, announces interim appointments

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

KISHTWAR: In a development aimed at strengthening organisational structure and employee representation, the National Health Mission (NHM) Employees Association Kishtwar, on Monday held a significant meeting to welcome state leaders and announce key interim appointments within its district body.

The gathering was attended by senior trade union leaders, including Rohit Seth, President of the JK NHM Employees Association, Jagdish Sharma, General Secretary of the J&K Trade Union, and Jia Lal, President of the Chenab Valley Hydro Power Project Union.

The event marked a renewed emphasis on solidarity, coordination, and the welfare of NHM employees at the grass-roots level. During the meeting, Pardeep Wazir was appointed as the interim District President of the NHM Employees Association, Kishtwar.

The union stated that the appointment will remain in effect until formal elections are held.

The move comes at a time when the district unit is looking to consolidate its base and enhance engagement with employees in the region. Speaking on the occasion, Rohit Seth commended the efforts of the Kishtwar unit and emphasised the importance of cohesive leadership.

"Today's meeting is not just symbolic but a testament to the collective strength of NHM employees. I am confident that the district body under Wazir's stewardship will continue to uphold the values of unity and service," he said.

Seth further stressed the association's commitment to addressing employee grievances and ensuring representation across all administrative tiers. The meeting also highlighted the contributions of Dr. Nazir Hussain, Medical Officer, who previously served as President of the NHM

Association in Kishtwar.

Dr. Nazir was elected General Secretary of the divisional body of A-JKNHM, Jammu Division, last year. His elevation was cited as an example of grassroots leadership being recognised at the State level.

Reflecting on the developments, Dr. Nazir expressed satisfaction with the direction the district unit was taking.

"It is heartening to see our colleagues in Kishtwar carrying the work forward with such sincerity. I remain committed to supporting the district body and ensuring that the concerns of NHM employees are voiced effectively at the State level," he said.

15-day Internship Course for Urdu & Punjabi students of Women's College Gandhi Nagar concludes

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: The internship programs initiated under the Cluster University of Jammu for various disciplines during the summer break are currently underway.

In this regard, the fifteen-day internship course for approximately forty students from the Urdu and Punjabi departments of Government College for Women (GCW), Gandhi Nagar Jammu, successfully concluded today. The program was organized under the guidance of Prof. Geetanjali Andotra Rana, Principal of GCW Gandhi

Nagar Jammu, in collaboration with JK 24x7 News Network/Gulistan News Channel, the largest digital media platform in Jammu and Kashmir. The course was mentored and supervised by Asif Rashid, a renowned news anchor of the state and Joint Editor of JK 24/7 News Network. The Heads of the Urdu and Punjabi Departments, Dr. Liaqat Jafri and Dr. Anuradha Sharma, served as coordinators for the initiative. During the fifteen-day intensive training, students received hands-on exposure to various aspects of broadcasting under the subject of Journalism & Media Studies, with a special focus on digital media. The curriculum included Camera handling & shooting techniques, News anchoring & presentation skills, News editing & video production, Report writing & script development, and content creation for digital platforms. Additionally, the students had the privilege of attending sessions conducted by eminent personalities from radio, television, social media, and news sectors, enriching their understanding of the media industry.

Dr Jitendra inaugurates Puducherry conference, underscores transformation through 'digital governance'

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

PUDUCHERRY: Union Minister of State (Independent Charge) for Science and Technology; Earth Sciences and Minister of State for PMO, Department of Atomic Energy, Department of Space, Personnel, Public Grievances and Pensions, Dr. Jitendra Singh today underscored the transformative role of digital governance in shaping India's future, asserting that the shift from 'minimum government, maximum governance' to a citizen-centric digital ecosystem is central to the country's administrative and socio-economic reforms. Delivering the inaugural address at the Southern Regional Conference of the Indian Institute of Public Administration (IIPA) at Pondicherry University, Dr. Jitendra Singh highlighted how initiatives launched over the past decade have not only streamlined service delivery but also empowered citizens, especially those in remote and rural areas. The conference theme, "Empowering Citizens in Digital India: Administrative, Management and Organisational Reforms," reflects a growing national consensus on leveraging technology for inclusive development, he said. Organised jointly by the IIPA Puducherry Regional Branch and Pondicherry University, the event also marked the launch of a Governance Cell at the university-a forward-looking initiative aimed at encouraging young minds to engage meaningfully with governance, reform, and nation-building. Dr. Jitendra Singh described the initiative as "a platform to foster a spirit of inquiry, public service, and ethical leadership among students and young professionals."

Dr. Jitendra Singh drew attention to several governance interventions introduced since 2014, including DigiLocker, UMAN, Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT), and the JAM Trinity (Jan Dhan-Aadhaar-Mobile), noting their role in reducing bureaucratic delays and enhancing transparency. "These reforms are not just administrative upgrades-they have massive socio-economic consequences," he said, citing examples like self-attestation replacing notarised verification and digital life certificates sparing senior citizens the need to physically prove their existence to receive pensions. In an engaging and often personal speech, Dr. Jitendra Singh pointed out that reforms such as biometric and face-recognition-based identity systems have been instrumental in humanising governance. "It is not just about adopting technology-it's about applying it to ensure dignity and ease of living for every Indian," he said. The Minister emphasised how digital tools have broadened access to healthcare and housing. "India is the only country where you can get insured for a pre-existing disease. That is a testament to our citizen-first approach," he said. Among the dignitaries present were Prof. P. Prakash Babu, Vice Chancellor, Pondicherry University; Dr. Sharat Chauhan, Chief Secretary, Government of Puducherry; Surendra Nath Tripathi, Director General, IIPA; Amitabh Ranjan, Registrar, IIPA, Dr. Ashok Das, Dean Academics.
