

Horticulture Deptt organises Capacity Building-cum-Training Programme for farmers

■ STATE TIMES NEWS
AKHNOOR: Department of Horticulture Jammu organ-ised a Capacity Building-cum-Training Programme for farmers, especially tar-geting the empowerment of women-at Pargwal under the chairmanship of MLA Akhnoor, Mohan Lal Bhagat.

The event witnessed the presence of Director Horticulture Jammu, Gul Sayed, Chief Horticulture Officer Jammu, Rakesh Kotwal, District Level Subject Matter Specialist , Rakesh Bhagat and Horticulture Development Officer Khour Amit Saraf.

The programme drew a large number of farmers from the area, with especial-ly enthusiastic participation from women folk. The strong turnout reflected the keen interest among local farming communities to adopt modern practices and value addition techniques. An on-spot demonstration session was conducted for the participants on making pickle, jam, squash, and other value-added products. Experts explained the processes in detail and answered farmers' queries, encouraging them to adopt such techniques to increase their income and reduce post-harvest losses.

Speaking on the occa-sion,MLA Akhnoor stressed the importance of setting up small-scale fruit processing units in the block, especially for women and unemployed youth. He said such initia-tives would not only make them self-reliant but also generate employment oppor-tunities for other unem-ployed people in the area. He called upon the youth and women folk of Pargwal to come forward, adopt mod-ern horticulture practiees, and avail themselves of gov-ernment support for entre-preneurship development. Director Horticulture Jammu delivered an in-depth awareness session on various government schemes run by the Department of Horticulture for the welfare of farmers. He highlighted the Holistic Agriculture Programme (HADP), the Mission for Integrated Development of Horticulture (MIDH), and other centrally sponsored schemes. He urged the par-ticipants to take advantage of these schemes for estab-lishing nurseries, protected cultivation structures, micro-irrigation systems, and processing units.

CHO Kotwal also addressed the gathering, specifically encouraging women farmers to actively participate in the department's schemes. He empha-sized the role of women in value addition and entrepre-neurship, noting that with proper training and support, they can significantly improve their livelihoods.

As part of the pro-gramme's concluding activi-ties, MLA Akhnoor distrib-uted fruit plants among the participants to promote orchard development in the region. He also ceremoni-ously handed over the keys of tractors to the beneficiar-ies under the HADP scheme, marking a signifi-cant step towards farm mechanisation in the area.

The event concluded with a formal vote of thanks deliv-ered by Horticulture Development Officer, Khour.
