JKPCC felicitates participants of ‘Green Ganesha Awareness Drive’

STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: Chairman, J&K Pollution Control Committee, Suresh Chugh on Friday presided over a felicitation ceremony for volunteers of Disha organization, Trikuta Nagar Welfare Society, students of Government Degree College Marh and GGM Science college for their active participation in the intensive awareness drive regarding use of eco-friendly Ganesha idols to celebrate Ganesh Chaturthi 2021. The awareness drive was conducted with the support of Jammu Municipal Corporation from September 10. The focus was on providing training to artisans for making eco-friendly clay idols using natural herbal colors, creating awareness among common masses regarding harmful environmental impact of using POP made idols, chemical based colors and motivating devotees to make eco-friendly idols themselves using innovative natural ingredients. Chugh, Chairman, JKPCC was the chief guest on the occasion. The felicitation ceremony was attended by B. M. Sharma, Member Secretary, J&K Pollution Control Committee; Dr. Syed Nadeem Hussain, Regional Director JKPCC, Jammu; Rajinder Prasad Kakkar, President, Trikuta Nagar Welfare Society; Dr. Deepali Mahajan of GGM Science college; Professor Anjana Chib of GDC and Professor Shakun Sharma both from GDC Marh and the students of the twin Colleges and volunteers of Disha Organization. In his address, the Chief Guest appreciated the initiative taken by Regional Director JKPCC, Jammu, Dr. Syed Nadeem Hussain and Anuradha, Scientist, JKPCC to organize such awareness drives by involving development societies, NGOs, students and implementing authorities. He encouraged students for their active participation during ten days long awareness drive during COVID Pandemic and expressed gratitude towards all volunteers for their selfless efforts. He also informed that traditionally only clay idols were made and worshipped to show accordance between environment and Hindu rituals, and this practice should be further revived and carried on to save the environment. He pledged the continuous and active cooperation and support of J&K Pollution control committee to the volunteer organizations like Disha, Trikuta Nagar welfare society as well as student groups of NSS, college bodies etc. in organizing similar awareness campaigns and camps in future as well. Earlier, Regional Director JKPCC Jammu, Dr. Syed Nadeem Hussain gave a brief introduction on the work done by JKPCC in association with Disha organization during the past couple of years, especially the "Save Tawi Campaign" launched to create mass awareness for cleaner and eco-friendly disposal of items & idols during the Ganesh Chaturthi & Sakhi Visarjan. He lauded the efforts of Disha Foundation & the co-operation extended by NSS & GDC, Marh & GGM Science College.

B. M. Sharma, Member Secretary, JKPCC presented the keynote address and deliberated upon the growing and unabated trend of making POP idols, which being cheap and easy to make expose the river and other water bodies to further environmental degradation and water pollution due to presence of toxic chemicals in the POP and chemical dyes used to decorate these idols. He further emphasized the role of citizens in ensuring replacement of POP made idols by eco-friendly idols for betterment of society as a whole. He urged the colleges and educational institutions to make their campuses & microenvironment cleaner by adopting the green practices like reducing use of Polythene carry bags and ensuring that there is no open burning of MSW in the college including its vicinity.

Other officers present were Principal Scientific Officer, JKPCC, Neelu Sharma, Divisional Officer, Jammu North, Anil Sharma, Divisional officer, Jammu South, Arshad Malik, President Trikuta Nagar Welfare Society, Rajinder Prasad Kakkar and Scientist, JKPCC, Anuradha.

crops especially dragon fruit.

He further informed that the department is going to establish first of its kind, Mega Horticulture Nursery at Chakroi, R. S. Pura, in 805 kanal of land which will produce High Density Fruit Plants thus catering to the demand of farmers of Jammu division. He impressed upon the farmers to sell their produce through e-commerce thereby getting rid of exploitation by middlemen, ultimately enhancing their income manifold.

He stressed upon the officers to cover 200 acre of land with plantation of fruit crops in clusters as there is great potential for Horticulture in the area. He added that the process for formation of FPO should be initiated so that after 2-3 years the farmers can get good returns after proper value addition of their produce.

Further, Principal Secretary handed over the keys of Farm machinery including Tractors, Power Tillers besides distributing sanction letters of Custom Hiring Centres among the beneficiaries.

Director Horticulture apprised the Principal

Secretary of progress being made in respect of plantation in sub tropical areas of Jammu division. He informed that for the first time in Jammu division 1600 guava fruit plants are being planted in 20 kanal of land of farmer Sukhdev Singh.

Principal Secretary was accompanied by Director Horticulture, Jammu, Ram Sevak, Joint Director Horticulture, Jammu, C L Sharma, Chief Horticulture Officer, Jammu, S Sarabjit Singh, district level officers and other block level officers and officials of the department.
