important milestones, institutions or roads in the UT will be named after those personnel of police or other forces who have laid down their lives for the nation.

The committee concerned has made a decision and the process will start from September 30. There cannot be a much better way to honour the sacrifices of those people who have given their blood for saving J-K and the country. Many people have sacrificed their lives and I assure that the government will take care of the health, education and basic facilities of their families and children, he said.

Sinha said while it was true that the situation in the UT has changed, there has been a huge change in the policy as well.

There was a time when attempts were made to buy peace, but, I think, that time is over now and everyone should understand that this administration works on the sole aim of establishing peace and both the civil administration as well as the police are working on this policy. This is a huge difference that has happened in the recent past, he said.

The L-G said J-K Police has worked for safeguarding the peace and sovereignty of the country and has performed its duty towards the nation along with other colleagues from J-K despite various difficulties.

I thank you for your sacrifices and for being alert to maintain the internal security, he added.

It is commendable the way J-K Police is working with restraint and courage, and with love towards the motherland, he said.

It is not an easy job to maintain law and order, fight terrorism and also work for the interests of the people, he said.

I appeal to the youth to desist from it and channelize their energy into something good for themselves, their families, society and J-K, he added.

Today, we see 50 per cent of the total COVID-19 positive cases are coming from Srinagar. I...request the people of Srinagar to follow SoPs in spirit, otherwise we will go back to where we were last year, the L-G said.

Sinha said sporting events have the power to effect a change much more than any other event and compared to other states, J-K is spending more on sports.

"We are spending double the amount that is being spent on sports in the country's largest state of Uttar Pradesh. Our budget, for 1.25 crore population, on sports and education is only Rs 75 crore less than Maharashtra whose population is 12 crore.

So, we are spending more on sports and education than other states. Our sports infrastructure is behind none. We have a stadium and an indoor stadium in every district and for that I am thankful to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, he said.

PDP to fight...

situation has improved. They are feeling suffocated while they (BJP) are trying to portray that everything is alright, she said.

Referring to the one-day strike call given by Jammu Chamber of Commerce and Industry against for September 22 against alleged attempts to finish local trade by allowing big corporate chains to open their outlets, she said those who the BJP claimed were in support of the abrogation of Article 370 are going on a protest strike.

At least they are registering their protest but in Kashmir, the people cannot even do this. They are forced to open their shops if they resort to strike, the PDP leader said.

They are only concerned about the commission which they use to buy opposition MLAs to bring down an elected government, she alleged.

Asked about the removal of the national flag from a building at Kotranka in Rajouri district during her visit, she said, I do not have any information. Ask the police about this.

In response to a question about the visit of 70 union ministers to different parts of Jammu and Kashmir and their remarks that Article 370 was a hurdle in the development of the Union Territory, Mehbooba said, It is nothing but a photo opportunity to portray that the situation is normal. But if the situation is normal, why are District Development Council (DDC) members kept in hotels and other buildings under security and not allowed to move freely.

They should go to Uttar Pradesh to campaign for the next assembly elections. They should go there to find out the reasons for dumping of bodies in the sacred river Ganga and the condition of the people, Mehbooba said.

About the slow pace of work on various projects in Jammu, She said, Nothing is happening in Jammu and Kashmir. Many of these projects were sanctioned during the previous government.

She alleged that the corruption in Jammu and Kashmir is at an all-time high with all government departments affected, while the poor people are facing starvation in the backdrop of rising prices of essential commodities and fuel.

Accusing the BJP of playing politics over the issues of Taliban, Afghanistan and Pakistan to garner votes, Mehbooba alleged that the seven-year-rule of the saffron party has brought miseries to the people of the country and left Jammu and Kashmir destroyed.

She claimed that it is not Hindus but the democracy and India which are in danger under the BJP rule, which has undone all the good work of the past 70 years of the Congress and started selling national resources and raising the prices of essentials to fill its coffers to buy or intimidate opposition legislators.

The former chief minister taunted her critics and said the mere mention of Taliban or the party's vision of self-rule makes her anti-national and triggers debates and discussions even as the focus should have been the ongoing agitation of the farmers, inflation and other issues of public importance.

Jammu and Kashmir is in trouble and so is the entire country they say Hindus are in danger but they are not in danger and in fact it is India and the democracy which are in danger because of them (BJP), Mehbooba said addressing a rally organised by the youth wing of her party here.

Mehbooba reached Jammu late on Saturday after a five-day tour of Poonch and Rajouri districts, facing a small protest by a group of Rashtriya Bajrang Dal activists whose attempt to stop her cavalcade near Dogra chowk in the city was foiled by police.

Mehbooba said the BJP is watching what she is saying to trigger a debate in media.

Explaining self-rule, she said Jammu and Kashmir is holding a strategic position and can be a gateway to central Asia if all the cross-border traditional routes are opened and all the neighbouring countries allowed to open bank branches which will generate employment.

Mehbooba said the people of Jammu and Kashmir have lost their hope with the BJP government which smashed the protective shield of the erstwhile state by abrogating Article 370.

She said the Muslim majority state would have never joined India if BJP would have been at the helm during partition.

In an apparent reference to the one-day strike call given by Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Jammu for September 22 against alleged attempts to finish local trade by allowing big corporate chains to open their outlets, she said this is the fall-out of the abrogation of Article 370 and the people of Jammu have understood it.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi congratulated Channi and said, "We must continue to fulfil the promises made to the people of Punjab. Their trust is of paramount importance." Earlier, senior Congress leader Randhawa was said to be the frontrunner for the post. However, after Channi's name was announced, Randhawa said, "I welcome the decision of the party high command."
