

BEWARE OF TOUTS & MIDDLEMEN IN RRB EXAMINATIONS

Know the Truth & Facts

Q Bogus claims are being made to deposit the form for application for recruitment by RRBs. Is the application process still open?

A: No. The applications were invited by RRBs for CEN RRC 01/2019 - Level 1 (Erstwhile Group D) recruitment in year 2019. The exam could not be held earlier due to COVID pandemic. Now, application process is closed.

Q Is it possible to provide answer key to the candidate before or at the start of exam?

A: The question paper is in highly encrypted form (256-bit encryption), and no one other than the candidate can have access to the question paper. Candidate gets to see the question paper once he does second & final login into the computer at the time of commencement of the examination. Final decryption of question paper takes place at this instance only. Hence no answer key can be prepared by any person and such claims are totally false, baseless and misleading.

Q What other safeguards are in place to prevent malpractices in the RRB examinations?

A: The sequence of questions in the question paper is randomized/shuffled along with the randomization/shuffling of all four options available for the question. Each candidate in the exam centre thus has a unique question paper and no two candidates can have same question papers with given sequence of questions & options. This is a system generated through computer logic without any manual intervention. Therefore it is impossible to make answer key for the unique question paper given to the candidate.

Q Is it possible to get the desired center, desired lab/room or desired node/seat in the exam center?

A: The allocation of the centre to the candidates is randomized through computer logic. The exam center is made known to the candidate only four days before the exam date. Once candidates report at the exam centre and register themselves, the allocation of lab/room is done through computerized randomization. Node/seat in a lab/room is allotted in the similar fashion once candidate reaches at the lab/room. Hence no one can ensure you desired center, desired lab/room or desired node/seat.

Q What additional mode of verification has been introduced by RRBs?

A: First time in the history of examinations, real-time Aadhaar based biometric authentication of candidates and the exam centres has been introduced at all India level by the RRBs. This is in addition to the measures already in place, like CCTV coverage of each and every computer, capturing and verifying biometrics at each stage of the recruitment process (right upto joining), taking photographs and handwritten paragraph, mid-exam biometrics including every time after bio-break etc.

Q What is the level of supervision and control over the exam process?

A: Strict vigilance is being done by Railway Staff pre/during/post exams. As a result, a number of candidates involved in malpractice/unfair means are being regularly caught. RRBs also deploy two persons including one RPF personnel in Server Room to keep watch on any suspicious activities.

Q Can a candidate answer all the questions towards the end of exam?

A: A complete log record of all the responses given by the candidate along with time for those responses is maintained and such candidates gets identified for abnormal activity from their nodes.

Q Can someone ensure you job in Railways through dubious means?

A: As enumerated above it is impossible for someone to get the candidate selected in Railways through dubious means. RRBs have filed FIRs/GDs in Police Stations against candidates and individuals indulging in malpractices and such candidates have been debarred from appearing in future RRB exams for life.

Q Where should candidates report all these false claims of providing employment through bogus means?

A: As lots of touters and dealers are active, candidates are advised not to fall prey to such elements and damage their career prospects. All such cases should be reported immediately at following number and email id: Contact Number: 0755-2746660 • Email id: msrrbbpl@gmail.com

Anyone who is offering such false promises for job is befotling the candidates. RRB aspirants should not explore Touts/Unscrupulous elements as it is impossible to manipulate RRB system of examination by any means. This may invite penal action as well as debarment from future examinations.
