

NAUP announces candidates for Jammu Constituencies

Party President Sandeep Manhas with nominated candidates at a meeting.

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: The National Awami United Party (NAUP) on Thursday announced its candidates for the upcoming Assembly elections in key constituencies across the Jammu region. Party President Sandeep Manhas declared the candidates namely Shikha Bandler for Jammu West, Mohit Dalhotra for Jammu North and Pinki Devi for Samba Constituency.

In his statement, Manhas emphasized the party's commitment to the underprivileged and marginalized sections of society, saying, "The NAUP is the party of the poor and oppressed. Our main ideology is to empower the underrepresented, giving them a platform to step into politics and claim the rights that have long been denied to them by other parties." He further expressed confidence in the candidates, stating that they exemplify the party's vision of grassroots leadership.

Each candidate has been selected for their dedication to serving the people and their alignment with the party's mission to bring real change by focusing on the needs of the common people.

"The political landscape has for too long been dominated by those who overlook the issues of the poor. The NAUP stands to change that by ensuring that political power is in the hands of the people who truly understand and represent the needs of the community," Manhas added.

The NAUP is calling for a new era in politics where the focus is on inclusivity, opportunity, and fairness for all, regardless of socio-economic background.
