HC quashes two PSA detentions, upholds two others: Liberty vs Security in focus

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: In a series of significant rulings, the High Court of Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh has delivered a mixed verdict on preventive detentions, quashing two orders under the Public Safety Act (PSA) while upholding two others, including one under the PIT NDPS Act. The judgments reflect the Court's balancing act between safeguarding personal liberty and protecting public order and security.

Justice Mohd Yousuf Wani quashed the detention of Maryama Begum of Udhampur, who had been held under Order No. 09-PSA-2024. The Court found that the detention was based merely on vague allegations copied from a police dossier, without any specific incident or supporting material. "Bald and general allegations cannot justify preventive detention, particularly when no criminal case exists against the detainee," the Court observed, directing her immediate release.

In another relief, Justice M.A. Chowdhary set aside the detention of Ghulam Haider, a 72-year-old retired lecturer from Kathua, who had been branded an Over Ground Worker. The Court noted procedural lapses, including unexplained delay in issuing the order and failure to communicate the outcome of his representation. "Personal liberty is the most cherished right, and even a slight infraction of safeguards vitiates detention," Justice Chowdhary held.

However, the Court upheld the detention of Ravinder Kumar alias Shamu of Billawar, Kathua, describing him as a repeat offender involved in multiple criminal cases. Dismissing his petition, the Bench held that his continuous involvement in organized crime posed a grave threat to public order. "The subjective satisfaction of the detaining authority, once based on relevant material, cannot be substituted by judicial opinion," the Court ruled.

Similarly, the detention of Ashwani Kumar alias Rinku of Samba under the Prevention of Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act (PIT NDPS Act) was upheld. Despite being on bail in earlier NDPS cases, he was found to have resumed drug trafficking. The Court noted that ordinary criminal law had failed to deter him and his activities posed a grave threat to youth and society. Preventive detention, it said, was justified in such circumstances.

According to the FIR, the prosecutrix-estranged from her husband and in need of employment-came in contact with the accused through Facebook. She alleged that he spiked her drink, rendered her unconscious, and raped her at a rented house in Gangyal, later blackmailing her with photographs and videos.

The Court noted that the allegations made out a prima facie case of rape, describing the offence as "grave and heinous," and held that Ajay Kumar had "failed to make out a case for grant of anticipatory bail."

Dismissing the petition, the Court clarified that its observations were limited to the bail proceedings and would not prejudice the trial of the case once the investigation is completed.

■ STATE TIMES NEWS

JAMMU: The Fast Track Court, Jammu, has dismissed the anticipatory bail application of Ajay Kumar (38), a resident of Gangyal, accused of repeatedly raping a woman under the pre-text of offering her a job.

Presiding Officer Amarjeet Singh Langeh rejected the plea filed in connection with FIR No. 95/2025 registered under Section 376 of the Indian Penal Code at Police Station Gangyal. The Court observed that custodial interrogation of the accused was imperative to recover alleged electronic evidence, including nude photographs and videos said to have been taken of the prosecutrix.

The prosecution opposed bail on grounds that the accused could destroy crucial digital evidence.
